Ecclesiasticus 47:8,9

“Whole-heart Singing”

⁸ In all his works he praised the holy one most
High,
with

words of glory, with his whole heart he sung
songs, and loved him that made him.

⁹ He set singers also before the altar, that by their voices they might make sweet
melody, and daily sing praises in their songs.

Let's just look at, and ponder, a few phrases
from these two verses:

- Sweet melody
- Daily sing
- All his works
- Whole heart
- Loved Him that made him

When you sing to or about God, if you sing, do you do so for the praise and applause
of people, for money,
for status?

Instead, is it because you completely understand that the Holy One Most High, the One who made you, is worthy of
whole-heart singing?
